Easter is Sharing Christ's Victory

I don't know about you, but this Lent's message series: He Chose the Nails from Pastor Max Lucado has had a big impact on me. All I can say is that "Jesus did it all" (forgiveness, new life, sanctification and a future filled with love and hope) for you and me and everyone who accepts Him. Finally, I want to leave you with this Easter blessing from The Rev. Max Lucado from the fourteenth chapter of his book: He Chose the Nails:

"I Have Won the Victory: God's Promise in the Empty Tomb

With the cross, [God] won the victory. Colossians 2:15

On the first Easter morning ... the smothering silence that insulates the domain of the dead from the world of the living was suddenly shattered. -Gilbert Bilezikian

But now in a single victorious stroke of Life, all three—sin, guilt, death—are gone, the gift of our Master Jesus Christ. Thank God! 1 Corinthians 15:57 msg

But thanks be to God, who always leads us in victory through Christ. 2 Corinthians 2:14...

His Movement

The official response of [some] Jewish leaders to the rumors of the resurrection:

Of course they say he's alive. They have to. What else can they say?

The actual response of the Jewish leaders to the resurrection of Jesus: "A great number of the Jewish priests believed and obeyed" (Acts 6:7).

The decision of the Jewish leaders about the church: "If their plan comes from human authority, it will fail. But if it is from God, you will not be able to stop them" (Acts 5:38-39).

The response of the church: "The number of followers was growing" (Acts 6:1)...

The discovery made by every person who has tried to bury the faith: The same as the one made by those who tried to bury its Founder: He won't stay in the tomb.

The facts: The movement has never been stronger. Over one billion Catholics and nearly as many Protestants.

The question: How do we explain it? Jesus was a backwater peasant. He never wrote a book, never held an office. He never journeyed more than two hundred miles from his hometown. Friends left him. One betrayed him. Those he helped forgot him. Prior to his death they abandoned him. But after his death they couldn't resist him. What made the difference?

The answer: His death and resurrection. For when he died, so did your sin. And when he rose, so did your hope. For when he rose, your grave was changed from a final residence to temporary housing.

The reason he did it: The face in your mirror"¹

It is our hope that you will carry the blessings of Christ's Lent and Easter seasonal experiences far into the rest of your life. And as always, may this and every issue of our Church's Messenger serve as your invitation to the activities and events contained within this newsletter.

Blessed to Be Your Florida Pastor,

Fred Ball

Easter Fools' Day

By Kira Schlesinger
www.MinistryMatters.com

The challenges of navigating the liturgical calendar and our secular calendar are nothing new, but the way things fall in 2018 is particularly interesting. The Christian observance of the season of Lent began on Ash Wednesday, which also happened to be February 14th or, Valentine's Day. Forty days plus several Sundays later, we will celebrate Easter on April 1st, also known as April Fools' Day. The latter observance (I hesitate to call it a holiday) is primarily a celebration of practical jokes and pranks. In the era of the internet and "fake news," sometimes these jokes can be difficult to spot. Generally finding that many of these pranks and jokes wind up on the wrong side of the line that separates fun from harmful, I tend to abstain from April Fools' — but sharing a date with Easter has invited me to reconsider.

Depending on one's view of the resurrection, the April Fools'/Easter mash-up could either be a commentary on the "joke" Jesus plays on death or, more cynically, a denigration of the historical resurrection as a joke. If, as preachers, we choose to broach this topic, we must be sure to clarify that the resurrection is no joke. Jesus was not just "playing" dead for a few days only to surprise and startle the disciples by jumping out of the tomb.

Going beyond pranks or practical jokes, there is something in humor that can reveal truth and help call power to account. The role of the court jester or "fool" was not only to entertain with dance, music, and comedy but also to give bad news to the ruler. In Shakespearean plays, the jester is often the voice of common sense and honesty, pointing out the follies of those in higher stations. As the lowliest member of the court, the jester could make political observations and judgments that would land a higher nobleman in jail. In the Middle Ages, Death was often portrayed in jester's garb as one who has the last laugh and who humbles everyone regardless of standing, just as the jesters made fun of everyone.

In our celebration of Easter, in our encounter with the empty tomb, in our experience of the Risen Christ, we know that Death does not get the last laugh. If anyone plays the fool or the jester, it is Jesus. By his silence in front of Pontius Pilate, he reveals the kangaroo court for the sham that it is. By his submission to violence, torture, and death on a cross, he reveals these things as ultimately powerless. In spite of his lowly social standing, Jesus calls to account the religious and political authorities of his day.

The poet Emily Dickinson wrote, "Tell all the truth, but tell it slant," a kind of guiding principle for a jester or fool. There are ways in which we can call the abuses of power to account by means of joke or satire that we cannot say directly. Importantly, in our use of joke or satire, we must be careful to "punch up" to those in power as the fools did, rather than down to those who are oppressed. This is the difference between effectively calling to account and merely bullying.

Beyond indulging in pranks or practical jokes, the concurrence of Easter and April Fools' Day has the potential to unlock aspects of God's character and the resurrections that we might not normally consider. After all, Paul writes to the church in Corinth that the message of the cross is foolishness to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved, it is the power of God (1 Corinthians 1:18). These two are not mutually exclusive. On Easter, the power of God is foolishness in the sense that it reveals worldly power and death for what they are. It is God-in-Christ who gets the last laugh, not Death.

Atlantic Central District News

From Our District Superintendent, Rev. Dr. Gary Spencer Please share this with leaders in your local church:

In April we are going to have our District Training led by Vitality Share Groups (Vision 2020) across the District. We will have 6 regional gatherings so people can be together in a ministry zone. The theme will be Strategic Partnerships. My hope is every church will participate and bring all your leaders and others. My challenge is for every church to bring 20-30 people or more to this. Why? Because it is good in regions to be in fellowship and see we are not alone and we do have strength in numbers. Second is to learn about various ways we can work together. The fact that the river has moved means we must adapt or die. Adaptive work is hard and even causes resistance (again look at Acts) but it is also exciting. My hope is in 2018 we will be willing to take big risks for the sake of the Kingdom and allow our preferences to take a back seat to God's mission to bring His Kingdom here on earth as it is in heaven.

Let me close with a few Biblical themes suggested in the book Better Together, that we will need to do this work:

Humble "Do nothing out of selfish ambition or vain conceit, but in Humility consider each other better than yourselves" (Phil. 2:3, emphasis added)

Purposeful "Being like-minded...being one in spirit and purpose" (Phil 2:2, emphasis added)

Stronger "Two are better than one, because they have a good return for their work" (Eccles. 4:9, emphasis added)

Fruitful "This is to my Father's glory, that you bear much fruit, showing yourselves to be my disciples" (John 15:8) (p. 10-11)

Peace and love,

Gary

From a member of Bike Florida:

"My wife and I are from Canada and recently participated in the annual Bike Florida bike tour. We were among the group that camp inside and of course ended up staying at your church for a couple evenings. We just wanted to express our thanks for your hospitality in allowing us to stay. We also wanted to especially thank the friendly pastor who stopped by to greet us and proceeded to give us a talk in the history on the history of the church and the city of Titusville. He certainly made us feel welcome in our home away from home! Please pass on our thanks and we certainly enjoyed our brief stay in your community and at your facility.

Thanks again

What's Happening

Volunteer Work Day

Saturday, April 7th @ 7:30 a.m.

Please save the date of Saturday, April 7th in order to volunteer to work around First UM Church at 7:30 am. Your grounds committee has a few volunteer jobs that need to be done so that your church can be a more beautiful place in which to worship God and do ministry and mission. We are in need of people to do various tasks inside and outside the church. Please bring your work clothes, a pair of work gloves, and yard tools (we may also do some inside work as well). We will meet at the church's office complex at 7:30 a.m. to receive our assigned tasks. Thank you in advance.

Food Pantry

“I was hungry and you gave me something to eat, I was thirsty and you gave me something to drink, I was a stranger and you invited me in, I needed clothes and you clothed me, I was sick and you looked after me, I was in prison and you came to visit me... Truly I tell you, whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers and sisters of mine, you did for me.” – Matthew 25:35,40

Our food pantry has been a blessing to this community for over 7 years. Families from all over Brevard County come to receive assistance from our church. Thanks to the generosity of our community and this congregation, we have been able to feed over 20,000 families. Each family receives groceries, some of which are customized for special needs like baby food or food that doesn't require stove heating. The food pantry is always in need of baby food as well as other foods to assist the needy. If you are able to donate non-perishable foods or money to stock the pantry, please drop your donation by the front office any weekday or Sunday morning.

Our food pantry operates out of our office lobby every Friday (including holidays) from 1:00 p.m.–3:30 p.m.
